WHO WE ARE

The Beginning

The company was born from a simple observation: a floor is not just a finishing material — it is a living space. It is where life unfolds, where memories are made and everyday moments take shape.

The founders of the Holzfloors brand — enthusiasts of wood, craftsmanship, and design — recognized that the flooring market needed a brand that combines aesthetics, durability, and emotion, not merely a product treated as “material.” This is how the idea was born to create collections that tell stories — about nature, about home, about people.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

At Holz floors, we believe that a floor is more than just a finishing element. It is the surface on which everyday life unfolds — a place for conversation, work, and rest. It connects spaces and gives them meaning.

A well-designed floor brings order and harmony, naturally guiding the interior. It supports architecture, light, and materials, creating a cohesive foundation for everything that happens above it.

Floors Where Life Happens.

When designing wooden floors, we think about their durability and how they will be used every day. About the marks of time that give them character. About the everyday movement they are designed to endure. About the life that unfolds on them over the years. For us, a floor is not just decoration — it is a structure that works together with space and people.

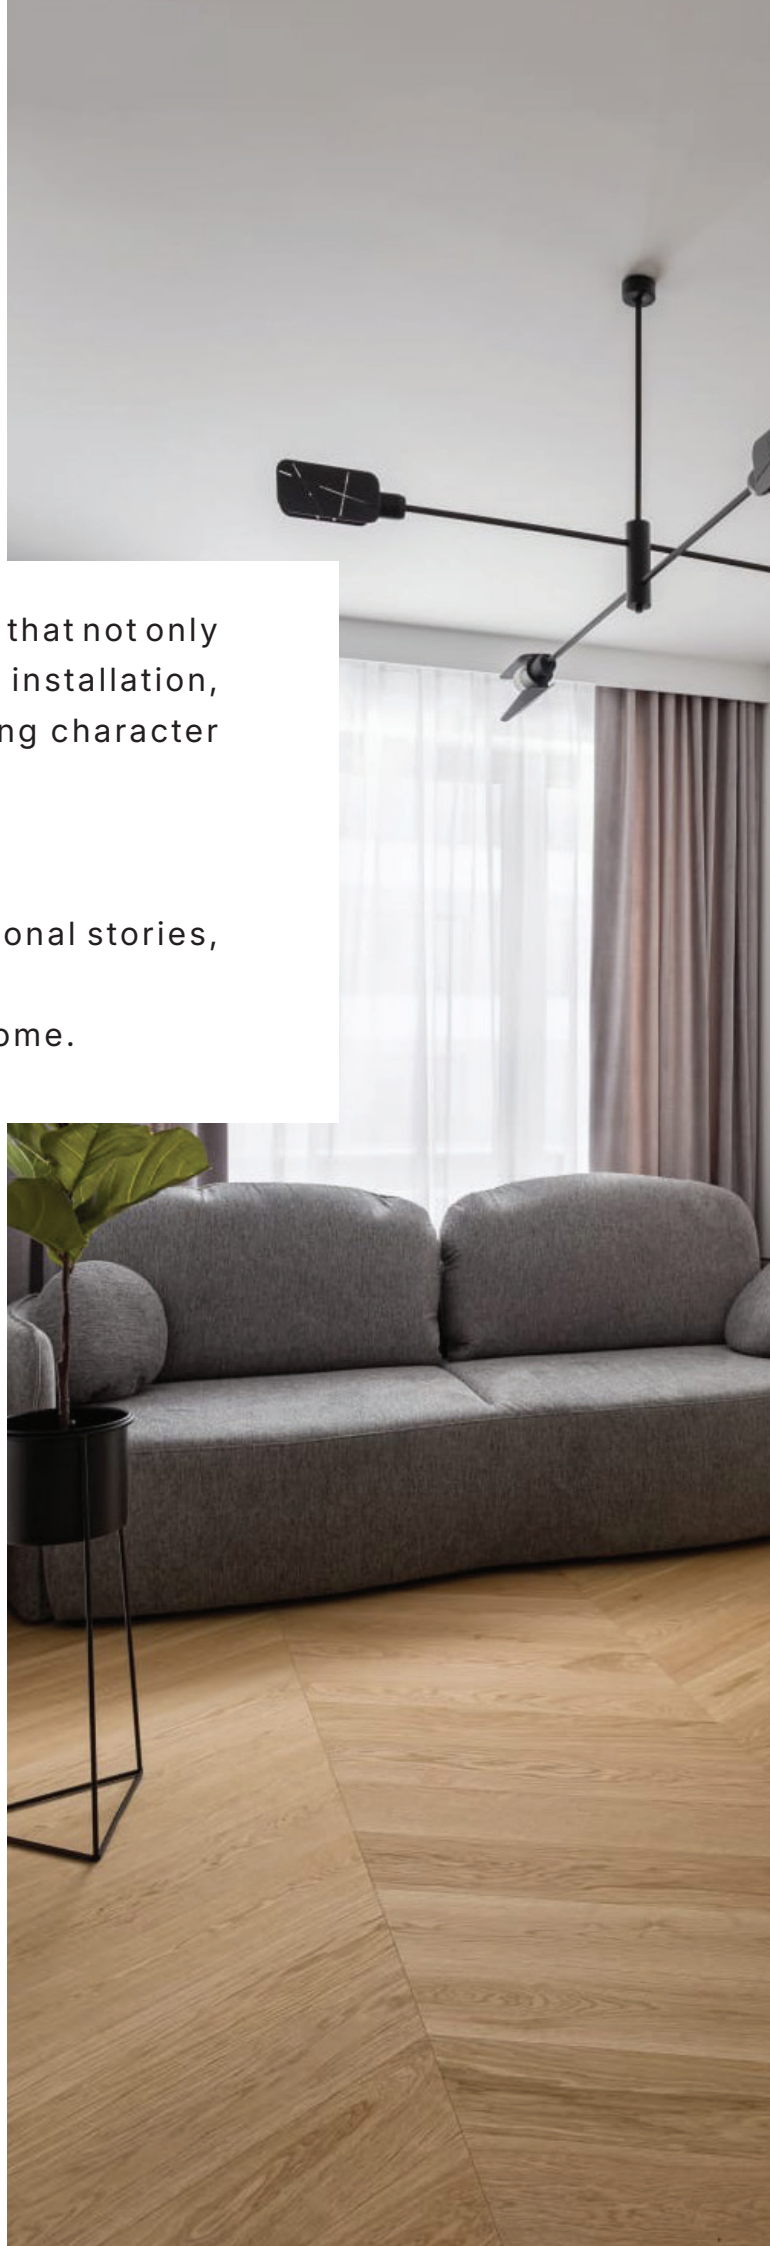

That is why we provide floors that are authentic, solid, and timeless. Floors that do not lose value over time, but gain it. Floors that withstand everyday life and remain its quiet witness.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to deliver floors that not only look beautiful on the day of installation, but also age gracefully, gaining character over time.

We want our floors to:

- ◇ inspire the creation of personal stories,
- ◇ set the tone for interiors,
- ◇ build the atmosphere of home.

OUR VALUES

The Holzfloors brand is built on three pillars:

⇒ Nature

For the production of Holzfloors flooring, wood and raw materials are selected with respect for the environment. Each plank features a unique grain pattern — a work of nature.

⇒ Craftsmanship

A combination of the latest technology and the precision of hand finishing. We believe a floor should combine timeless durability with contemporary aesthetics.

⇒ Design

Our collections are created with different lifestyles in mind — from minimalist interiors to warm, homely arrangements. Every color, every format, and every layout is designed to harmonize seamlessly with the space.
